

About Us: Comeau's Sea Foods Limited

Leveraging World Markets to Bring Quality Products to You

For more than 65 years, Comeau's Sea Foods has been a mainstay in the Canadian seafood industry. We are proud of our record as leaders in the harvesting, processing and global distribution of fish and seafood products. We have pushed our boundaries using enhanced communications and secure transportation systems in order to reach out to customers and suppliers all over the world.

Our commitment to customer service and dedication to quality has contributed greatly to our longevity and continued success.

Comeau's Sea Foods Group of Companies was founded by Bernardin J. Comeau and Clarence Comeau in 1946. Today, a variety of business activities serve loyal retail, foodservice and industrial customers in the areas of harvesting, processing, bottling and distributing of quality fish and food products. Fresh goods include scallops, herring, herring meal and oil.

Comeau's Sea Foods Group also processes a full line of quality frozen herring fillets, scallops and herring roe. Our value-added product lines include smoked salmon, smoked mackerel, salt fish, breaded scallops, seafood spreads, seafood chowders and ready-to-eat items.

Our commitment to being the best in harvesting and processing seafood has also led us to expand into services that complement our industry. You can trust in Comeau's Sea Foods Group for industrial grade metal fabrication and machining, ship repair and maintenance services along with a fully stocked supply store with a wide range of products guaranteed to perform under pressure. Further, through our Nova West Laboratories we conduct compliance testing and quality control.

We look to grow and change as we meet your needs while being recognized as innovators of great tasting quality seafood obtained in an environmentally responsible manner.

Comeau's Sea Foods upholds its reputation for consistent, superior seafood products by adhering to strict practices and quality controls.

- We focus on customer needs, tastes and market preferences.
- We take pride in the clean and unpolluted purity of our local marine resources.
- We retain our own licenses and vessels, and operate our own testing facilities and processing plants.
- We adhere to stringent quality procedures in modern processing facilities that consistently meet or exceed Canadian Food Inspection Agency regulations.
- We have loyal and dedicated employees that take pride in being part of the Comeau's Sea Foods family.
