WHAT MAKES A GOOD NOMINATING PACKAGE?

These guidelines are for your use in selecting and justifying the Award category and in commenting on the achievements of your nominee. While we appreciate that you may not have a resume of the nominee available, it would help the Committee if you could supply as much background information as possible. It is also recommended that this research and collection of materials be done discreetly. An excellent nomination package includes the basic information contained in a CV, plus a robust biography which details all key career milestones. Additionally, an ideal package includes several (3-5) letters of recommendation from community and business leaders and influencers, media clips or news releases, and any other information which would aid in telling the “story” of the candidate. For questions, please contact Shakara Joseph at (902) 454-4564.
